RECRUITING RATHER SLOW.

Possibly Due to Lucrative Positions in Civil Life.

LT. R. C. Knowlton, of the First Vermont Cavalry, who for the past week has been at work with his recruiting detachment endeavoring to obtain recruits for the First Infantry, reports that the number desiring to enlist is exceptionally small. He attributes this primarily to the fact that there are so many good paying positions in civil life at this time. After the haying season is over it is hoped that more men will respond to the call of their State and signify their willingness to devote their time to their country.

Popular opinion to the contrary, probably on account of the apparent quiet along the border, the State of Vermont is still in need of over one thousand men to fill the ranks of those doing Mexican duty to the number prescribed by the War Department. The rate of pay for the recruit is at first thought small—fifteen dollars a month—but the recruit is furnished clothing, food, lodging, medical attendance when necessary, and has an excellent opportunity to see the country, in addition to which the recruit showing an aptitude for work has the opportunity for promotion with its attendant raise in pay and privileges.

The recruiting office, which is in the rooms over the Volunteer Fire Department, is open each day from eight to five, and all questions regarding the service will be most gladly answered by those in charge.

FORD DAY AT MIDDLEBURY FAIR.

The Addison County Agricultural society announces the dates of the Middlebury fair for August 29, 30, 31, and September 1. This organization is 72 years young and it comes forward this year with a big exhibit furnished in every department and real features in the way of entertainments.

The second day of the fair, Wednesday, August 30, will be known as "Ford Day." Prizes will be given as follows: To the driver of a five passenger Ford coming the greater distance with four passengers, $10; second greatest distance, $5; third, $2; and for the next 10 Fords, $1 each.

To the greatest number of Fords arriving in a continuous line in excess of 15, from any community outside of Middlebury on "Ford Day," first prize, $10; second, $5; third, $2; fourth, $1; fifth, $1. To a party of four traveling the greatest distance in any kind of a five passenger car on "Ford Day," first prize, $10; second, $5; third, $2.

Cards explaining fully this novel event are to be mailed every automobilist in Vermont.

Modern vaudeville will be furnished each day of the fair and the racing schedule will be up to the reputation of the Middlebury fair.

BIG FARMERS' MEETING.

The county farmers' meeting is to be held in Cornwall, August 22. This is in charge of the county Grange and the County Farmers' Association. Arrangements have been made for a good program and the details of the work will be in charge of a local committee. This will be a basket lunch meeting and everybody in the county is cordially invited to attend. The program is as follows:

10 a. m. stock judging demonstration, G. F. E. Storey, Professor of Animal Husbandry, University of Vermont.

Afternoon talks by W. N. Cady, State Master of the Grange; J. E. Carrigan, County Agent; E. B. Cornwall, president of the Addison County Farmers' Association; C. M. Gardner, editor of the National Grange Monthly; E. S. Brigham, Vermont State Commissioner of Agriculture; H. W. Collingwood, editor of the Rural New Yorker. Everybody invited.

MR. STEWART GIVES SONG RECITAL.

Benjamin S. Stewart gave a song recital in the Music hall on Weybridge street Thursday evening. The program consisted of varied selections which were rendered in an excellent manner and brought forth frequent applause. Mr. Stewart has a pleasing voice and was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. H. Stewart. There was a large attendance of the townspeople and members of the summer session of Middlebury College. The proceeds, which netted about $34, will be for the benefit of the First Vermont Infantry at Eagle Pass, Texas.

BRANDON CHAUTAUQUA.

The Brandon Chautauqua parade of automobiles passed through this village Friday. There were 21 machines in the parade and they made a handsome appearance.

OAT SMUT DEMONSTRATION.

Interesting Program Mapped Out by County Agent.

The county agent will hold meetings at each of the oat smut demonstration plots in the county during the week beginning August 6th. Three meetings will be held each day and it will be necessary for the men to be present at the scheduled hour so that the county agent will be able to get to the next plot on time.

The schedule of meetings for the county is as follows:

Monday, August 7, 10 a. m., at Mr. Purcell's farm, Orwell.
 Monday, August 7, 1 p. m., at Henry Belden's farm, Shoreham.
 Monday, August 7, 3 p. m., at R. M. Osborn's farm, Shoreham.
 Tuesday, August 8, 10 a. m., at Cassius Seeley's farm, Middlebury.
 Tuesday, August 8, 1 p. m., at B. Gale's farm, Salisbury.
 Tuesday, August 8, 3 p. m., at Forrest Ayer's farm, Leicester.
 Wednesday, August 9, 10 a. m., at H. R. Palmer's farm, Bridport.
 Wednesday, August 9, 1 p. m., at A. T. Clark's farm, Addison.
 Wednesday, August 9, 3 p. m., at Arthur Lashaway's farm, Panton.
 Thursday, August 10, 10 a. m., at S. F. Gaines' farm, Panton.
 Thursday, August 10, 1 p. m., at J. A. Gravelle's farm, Waltham.
 Thursday, August 10, 3 p. m., at R. L. Robinson's farm, Ferrisburg.
 Friday, August 11, 10 a. m., at H. Cousino's farm, Bristol.
 Friday, August 11, 1:30 p. m., at Frank Harris' farm, Starksboro.
 Saturday, August 12, 10 a. m., at H. N. Rickerts' farm, Whiting.

COMMISSIONER HILLEGAS VISITS SUMMER SESSION.

Commissioner Milo B. Hillegas of the State Department of Education was an interested visitor at the Summer Session on Friday of last week. He gave the entire day to the inspection of classes, conferences with instructors and teachers, and discussion of plans with Dr. Collins. He expressed his pleasure in visiting Middlebury, and gave a very interesting talk to the teachers and assembled guests in the social hall at Pearson's at 8 o'clock in the evening. An informal gathering of a hundred or more teachers and friends and interested people from the village greeted the Commissioner and gave the closest attention to his address. Dr. Hillegas explained the plans of the department by which teachers will be certified under the new arrangement which went into effect the first of July. A large number of teachers, probably more than half of those in the State, will exchange their old certificates for certificates issued under the new regulations. Dr. Hillegas referred to the antiquated methods of instruction in the more common branches which are still prevalent in many sections, and stated that the teacher of today must be one who can lift herself out of such conditions. She will do this only by more advanced preparation for the special work which she is to do. Above all, the pupils of the schools must be shown that the work of the school is of vital importance and is closely connected with the work of the work-a-day world. The response which the teachers of Vermont have made to the call for better training has placed more than a thousand of Vermont teachers in Summer Session, within and without the State. Commissioner Hillegas said this is something which has never been witnessed before, and it is a good portent of the new order of things.

HONEY PRODUCED IN MIDDLEBURY.

Some idea may be gained of the honey producing possibilities of Vermont from the fact that the firm of J. E. Crane & Son of Middlebury have for some time been bringing in from its apiaries an average of a ton of honey a day. Crane honey is known throughout New England and far beyond its borders, and the containers used by this firm carry the name of Vermont to far distant points.

J. E. Crane, the senior member of the firm who is one of the State inspectors of apiaries, recently visited West Rutland and burned up an entire yard of bees, consisting of some 20 hives, belonging to a resident of that town, disease having gained headway among the bees.

CASSAVANT-DUBOIS.

Howe K. Cassavant and Miss Sophia Meola DuBois, both members of the class of 1914, of Middlebury College, were married at Bethel July 26. Mr. and Mrs. Cassavant spent part of their wedding trip in Middlebury, being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Farnsworth. They will make their home in Franklin, N. Y., where Mr. Cassavant is principal.
